tAggregateRow receives a flow and aggregates it based on one or more columns. For each output line, are provided the aggregation key and the relevant result of set operations (min, max, sum...).

This component handles flow of data therefore it requires input and output, hence is defined as an intermediary step. Usually the use of tAggregateRow is combined with the tSortRow component.

Following scenario describes a four-component Job. As input component, a NYSE file contains stock prices and volume to be sorted by best average volume. This component is connected to a tAggregateRow operator, in charge of the average calculation then to a tSortRow component for the ascending sort. The output flow goes to tLogRow.

tAggregateSortedRow receives a sorted flow and aggregates it based on one or more columns. For each output line, are provided the aggregation key and the relevant result of set operations (min, max, sum...).

Helps to provide a set of metrics based on values or calculations. As the input flow is meant to be sorted already, the performance are hence greatly optimized.
